AMERICANS ORDERED TO LEAVE CHINA SPECIFICATIONS COMPLETED FOR HARBOR DREDGING

FOREIGNERS IN CHINA ARE IN GRAVE DANGER

400 Marines Get Orders
To Sail for Scene of Trouble

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE
(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The State Department today ordered the evacuation of all Americans from interior China to ports from which they may be transported out of the country.

Merchant vessels are to be commandeered for the purpose it was learned.

At the same time the 400 American marines stationed at Guam, in the Pacific, were ordered to China. They sailed aboard the American Steamer Goldstar. They will assist in protecting Americans in the frenzied rush to get out of the danger zones.

The evacuation is attended with the greatest risk, it was stated, and grave fears are expressed that all of the Americans will not escape the fury of the encircling Chinese armies who have adopted the battle cry of "death to all foreigners."

Arms and ammunition are being rushed from the Philippines to the hospital of American troops who will have to fight their way through hundreds of thousands of Chinese.

Carquinez Bridge To Have Fenders

The American Toll Bridge company has made application for permission to construct fenders for the center pier system of its Carquinez highway bridge across Carquinez Straits between Crockett and Vallejo, according to Major W. Schulz, district engineer of the war department.

It is proposed to construct rock fills at each of the four corner abutments of the center pier, cross-overs, pile fender cushions at each corner, cross-overs, timber floating cribs to be anchored in position up and down stream from the piers, and cross-overs, timber floating cribs to be attached to the pile fenders along the channel side of the piers.

The fender system projects channelward for about 440 feet from the sides of the piers and approximately 130 feet up and down stream from the piers of the system.

Two Owners Claim Two Feet on Main Street in Martinez

Martinez property owners on Main street became worried over a squabble that centers in two feet of land which two owners claim.

D. Mendel who built the Jenny Wren store at the corner of Main and Castro is convinced that two feet on Main street over which the Hilson building extends rightfully belongs to him. He claims 46 feet on Main but was able to erect his building on only 44 feet.

D. L. Hilson also claims the two feet, and alleges that the library building when it was erected encroached two feet on the property which he later purchased.

The error, if it is such, dates back to more than half a century ago when survey lines were made. The courts will probably have to decide the respective ownerships of Mendel, Hilson, and the library.

WALLBANK RECOVERING

Acquittal For Slaying Pastor Is Prediction Of Observers

Pastor Tells of Slaying of Fort Worth Lumber
Man

By GENE FOWLER
(Copyright 1927, Universal Service)
AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 21.—The law put the Rev. J. Frank Norris on the rack here today. But somehow, the screws were not turned over much. When, with a look of relief, the immaculate Fort Worth fundamentalist stepped down, an impression was prevalent that the state was floundering.

Not a few impartial observers now predict an acquittal for the pastor who shot and killed Dexter E. Chipps, lumber broker and man about town in the preacher's study last July.

The accused pastor told his version of the slaying. Oddly enough, he was unperturbed by cross examination by W. P. (Wild Bill) McLean, whereas, he had appeared close to a breakdown in direct testimony.

The morning, dramatic in its words and events, smacked of the theater.

The afternoon, harring the occasional roars of "Wild Bill," champion witness, breaker of the southwest, savaged of the country church. When the pastor all but sobbed out his direct testimony, the shooting of Chipps, Fort Worth's baddest bad playboy, the witness' words might have seemed like lines from a play.

But under the lash of "Wild Bill," a lash that failed to crack as of yore, the witness stand might have been a pulpit, so tranquil was the man who replied in slow, even, pious tones. The defense rested. There was one rebuttal witness. It was an anti-climax. Norris tonight predicted his complete vindication. The old-time evangelical fire had returned to his clear, steel-blue eyes as he said:

"My testimony is uncontradicted."

Hanford Battery Trial Postponed

The trial of John Hanford, superintendent of construction on the Carquinez bridge, who was arrested on a charge of battery made by Thomas R. Hanna, of Martinez, has been postponed. Attorneys on both sides were unable to attend the trial.

Hanna swore out a complaint after attempting to take possession of a house occupied by Hanford and in which the former claimed a part interest. Hanna is alleged to have refused to leave the premises and Hanford is said to have ejected him by force.

Whipping Post For Chicken Thieves

(By Universal Service)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 21.—Poultrymen will not have to be so careful about locking up their fine Plymouth Rock roosters and Leg Horn hens if a bill offered in the lower house of the state legislature today is passed. This bill proposed to establish a public whipping post for chicken stealers.

A resolution to prohibit the teaching of evolution in the public schools was also entered.

CARS COLLIDE
No one was injured and but slight damage was done when cars driven by E. Jardine, 1602 Bissell avenue, and E. Willmer, collided at Eighth street and Bissell avenue yesterday afternoon.

2,069 BILLS MARK CLOSE OF LEGISLATURE

Flood of Bills Lessened
By Budget Prepared
By Governor Young

(By Universal Service)
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—The California legislature adjourned today officially at noon. Actually it was several hours after. The clock had then been stopped to give the fiction which attaches to the windup of legislative sessions.

A flood of bills broke upon the senate and assembly in the closing hours. They popped up from all directions.

Notice that an early adjournment of the first period of the session had been given.

This apparently served to move a slew of bills in upon the two houses.

Much as many of the legislators sincerely tried to escape the avalanche it ceased not until more than 2,000 measures were of record for both sides of the capitol. They run from the serious to the silly.

And to an observer it appears as though some of the boys had searched far and wide to get their names attached to the state that went into the files as the day waned.

But there is before the two houses the words of Governor C. (Continued on Page 3)

BERKELEY COPS ADOPT RADIO

(By Universal Service)
BERKELEY, Jan. 21.—Complete radio equipment was added today to the Berkeley police armament against crime.

Chief of Police August Vollmer, famous scientific policeman, as his first move since his crime survey in Detroit today announced installation of a high powered vacuum tube transmitter at police headquarters which will operate in conjunction with six tuned receivers installed in the automobiles of patrolmen.

All Berkeley policemen patrol their beats in automobiles. Berkeley is the only city of importance in the world where the entire police department is motorized.

Through a concealed loud speaker unit in the machines, desk sergeants will be able to communicate instantly with any patrolman or with all members of the department simultaneously regardless of where they may be in the city.

The transmitter is of 50 watts of the CW type and will operate on a fixed wave length of 167 meters.

The loud speakers, operating from three tube sets may be heard a distance of 20 feet from the automobile.

After a few weeks of experiment, the police expect to improve the set to that earphones may be used. Equipped with these phones patrolmen may speed to the scene of the crime and while doing so receive full descriptions and instructions.

In addition to the patrol system Berkeley police expect to use the radio for regular nightly communication with Los Angeles and Portland police as well as with other departments on the Pacific coast that may be equipped with suitable radio apparatus.

Broke and in Debt, Asks Funds

Lita Grey Chaplin and the two children of the famous film comedian with Mrs. Grey's mother. Lita told Uncle Sam yesterday that she was broke and needed the $14,000 alimony granted her by the court. The government has refused to release the funds and it is predicted that it may take five years to settle the case.

Lita Grey, Broke, In Need, Asks Government To Release Funds; Case May Be In Court Five Years

By M. L. RAMSAY
(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Charles Chaplin, film comedian, can not leave the country, and his wife can not collect a cent of alimony, until Uncle Sam has been paid all the income taxes for which liens of more than $1,000,000 have been placed on the Chaplin properties.

These new developments came swiftly today in the midst of troubles which have swirled about the comedian's head since Lita Grey Chaplin began action to divorce him two weeks ago.

Chaplin will be unable to leave the United States even to withdraw the large sum of money he has on deposit in London and Paris banks unless he finds a way to furnish bond for the government's huge tax claims.

LAW IS BARRIER
This barrier to travel results from a paragraph in the 1926 revenue law, reading:

"No alien shall depart from the United States unless he first procures from the collector or agent in charge a certificate that he has complied with all the obligations imposed upon him by the income, war profits and excess profits tax laws."

LITA'S PLEA UNHEEDED
Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue Charles R. Nash made it plain that the government will not heed her plea to permit the receivers of Chaplin's properties to pay $14,000 temporary alimony before the government has taken its toll.

MAY TAKE FIVE YEARS
Since the tangle of tax claims may take as long as five years to unravel, under normal procedure, it appeared that Uncle Sam holds the only winning hand in the three-sided game of wits and technicalities.

As matters stood today the government is prepared to block any move by Mrs. Chaplin and her relatives to gain possession of part of the comedian's wealth through receivers appointed at her demand.

But the receivers stand between Chaplin and his properties. He is unable to free those of the government's liens until he scrapes up a million to post a bond. Unless he can get the receivers out of the way he can not get at these properties to hand over the million the government demands.

Even if Chaplin raises his million elsewhere, thus disposing temporarily of the government, the sole probable effect would be to put his properties, clear of encumbrance, in the receivers' hands. Another million dollar bond has been demanded before Chaplin can lift the receivership.

ARBITRATION PLANS WITH MEXICO FAIL

Confiscation Sole Issue in Controversy Says The President

(By Universal Service)
By JOHN T. LAMBERT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The possibility of arbitration with Mexico vanished tonight.

President Coolidge, it became known, is convinced that Mexico has defied her binding treaties with the United States and has violated the age old principle that every man's property is safe from confiscation by any government.

Both those principles are beyond arbitration, certainly at this time, President Coolidge is understood to believe.

He is confident that once the American people get hold of the fact that the American government's sole protest is against seizure of property without compensation, his course toward Mexico will receive universal commendation and will no longer be subjected to the sniping that has come from many sources.

President Coolidge wants the people to know that as a condition for recognizing the Obregon government, the United States insisted that the property of its people in the southern republic would be safe from seizure without recompense.

By its enforcement of the oil and land laws, compelling American (Continued on Page 8)

COLD WEATHER IS PREDICTED

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—California should continue to wear heavy coats and mufflers for the next day or two at least, advises the United States Weather Bureau tonight.

"Cold and clear" with the temperature dropping throughout the state, is the forecast for tonight and tomorrow.

Mount Hamilton was the "coldest spot" in California today. The thermometer registered 28 above.

In San Francisco the temperature varied between 43 and 62. California, weather bureau officials said, is in for several days and nights of "frosty weather."

No crop damage has been reported.

A general cold wave was reported throughout the Pacific Coast today.

At Yakima, Wash., the official government thermometer registered 19 degrees below zero, the coldest weather in that city for several years.

The temperature in the Ahtanum district was 22 below and at Ellensburg, Wash., the thermometer registered 32 degree below zero.

Seattle experienced its coldest day since 1924 when the temperature dropped to 19 above today.

BUILDING PERMITS
Many Richmond people are building additions to their homes, according to permits issued by City Building Inspector, A. J. Hurley.

H. B. Silvas was yesterday granted permission to erect a sun porch on the east side of Fifteenth avenue between Bissell and Macdonald at a cost of $100. A permit was issued to Roy Wells to erect an auto wash rack on the north side of Barrett between Tenth and Eleventh at a cost of $250.

BICYCLE STOLEN
Lud Johnson 818 Pennsylvania avenue reported to the local police last night that bicycle was stolen from the front of his home, between 7 and 8 o'clock.

UNCLAIMED COW'S VALUE SET AT $146

No one wanted her! No one craved the companionship that she had once given to all the members of the family! She was dead now, and even the man who once claimed her disavowed all ownership. The dulcet tones with which she heralded the shades of evening were silent. She was a dead cow.

This touching scene took place yesterday in the court of Superior Judge A. B. McKeene, who decided that even a cow lying nobly in death belonged to her lawful owner, Joe Jardine, of Rodeo, when that worthy, having strayed into the path of an automobile driven by Frank H. Reid, of Oakland, and sacrificed herself to modern progress by wrecking the machine, and killing herself.

Jardine declared that the cow could not belong to him because the brand she bore was a "D" while every one knew that his particular brand was a "10."

The court, however, held Jardine the lawful if unappreciative owner of the animal and assessed him $146 to reimburse Reid.

It is confidently expected that dredging operations will be under way by March 15.

CORREA HELD FOR THREATS AGAINST WIFE

Manuel Correa, a resident of the Pullman district, is in the county jail awaiting hearing before Justice of the Peace John Roth on a charge of making threats against the life of his wife, Mrs. Mary Correa. The accused man appeared before Justice Roth yesterday and was sent to the county jail in lieu of bail.

According to Mrs. Correa her husband threatened to kill her on several occasions and she declared that he would do it if he had the chance. The local police also stated that Correa made the same threat in the presence of officers.

Mrs. Correa testified that her husband wanted her to get a divorce, and if she didn't he was going to kill her.

Pass Key Burglar
Loots Point Home

That some one, using a pass key, entered her home 23 Nichol avenue on Thursday night and stole $60 from her dresser, was the report given the police yesterday morning by Mrs. Walter Pierce.

Mrs. Pierce declared that she was away from home at the time and returned late at night. There was no indication that an opening had been forced, leaving the police to believe that a pass-key burglar ransacked the house.

Local Boys Leave
For Y Conference

Twenty delegates from the local Y. M. C. A. accompanied by Secretary A. W. Mueller left yesterday morning for Stockton where they will attend the northern California Older Boys' conference now being held there.

The boys will return tomorrow evening or Monday morning.

OSNER BUYS HOME
Nick Osner has purchased a house and lot located at 608 Eighth street from Mrs. N. Kosinski, of Richmond it was stated yesterday by A. L. Paulsen, local real estate man, who handled the transaction.

U. S. OFFICIALS WILL BE ASKED FOR APPROVAL

Dredging Will Pave Way
For Coming of Ford
Plant to City

Specifications for the proposed dredging in the inner harbor in preparation of the coming of the Ford plant to Richmond and the intensive development of waterfront under the Parr lease, have been completed and will be forwarded to General Deskyne, chief of the harbor engineers in Washington, D. C., by Major Schulz of the San Francisco district of army engineers in charge of harbor work.

This was the information received by the chamber of commerce yesterday. City Engineer E. A. Hoffman, City Manager James A. McVittie and T. A. Goodrick, of the Parr organization, checked over the final figures before submitting the specifications to Major Schulz. The latter will also make a check of the specifications and then they will be sent by air mail to General Deskyne.

It is confidently expected that dredging operations will be under way by March 15.

This will mark the second big step in Richmond's new industrial era, the first being the signing of the Parr lease and the purchase by the Ford company of 62 acres of waterfront industrial land for the site of its standard assembly plant in Richmond.

Workers For Red Cross At Pullman Shop

On the invitation of Superintendent F. T. Beck of the Pullman shops, Red Cross workers in the roll call being conducted in Richmond this week visited the shops and were cordially received.

The workers were escorted through the shops and made a complete tour of the plant. During the noon hour a Red Cross roll call was taken and a large amount of enthusiasm greeted the requests for membership subscriptions.

According to Mrs. T. N. Calfee, president of the temporary committee in charge of the drive, the prompt response and courtesy shown were indicative of the character of the men employed in the plant.

Claude E. Clark, of the Sydney S. Clark real estate company, left yesterday with William Hackmeier, of San Francisco, Frank Holland, of San Rafael and Ben Hall of Santa Rosa, for Mendocino county. They will spend the week end fishing and hunting.

Official Paper Of The City Of Richmond, California

NOW COMES ANOTHER ONE

"The English can't sleep with thinking about America," says Theodore Dreiser in an interview with the Herald-Tribune upon his return from Europe last week. They envy our wealth, our youth, our spirit, our prestige. They envy us the very American continent itself, forgetting meanwhile their own very real superiorities; their more intelligent government, their finer statesmanship, their honorable tradition."

The author of "An American Tragedy" is presumably a competent observer, but this conclusion, nonetheless, seem somewhat awry.

Wealth, prestige and spirit must essentially accrue to a nation in large degree through the method of its government. Since America has these to an extent that arouses envy in the breasts of our English cousins it seems a far-fetched conclusion that they have a "more intelligent government." As to their "honorable tradition" upon what chapter of English history does Mr. Dreiser assume to imply that the record of the United States is less glamorous in this respect?

England is a most admirable nation, but the fawning American novelist who returns from its shores drizzling about the "very real superiorities of its government and its traditions is becoming a prolific source of nausea in this country. Possibly Dr. Dreiser, like many who have returned before him, has his eye chiefly on the possibilities of the English market for his book.—New York Commercial.

It is all right to have a big celebration of the 150th birthday anniversary of Los Angeles, but if anyone tries to call it the sesquicentennial shoot him on the spot.—Los Angeles Times.

Some genius should invent a device which, when a person who is alone in the house gets into the bathtub, will automatically disconnect the telephone and doorbells.—Louisville Times.

Foreign money orders purchased in New York for Christmas broke all records. And still a lot of folks think Uncle Sam is Europe's Shylock, and not a Santa Claus.

It is said by some literary critics that American humor is on the decline, and this may be due to the passing of the old-fashioned country livery stable.

Personal Health Service By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received, only a few can be answered. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this newspaper. Name you, city on your return envelope. Don't say "city."

JUST HOW YOU CONTRACT A "COLD"

Of course I still maintain there is no disease known to medical science which is caused by heat or cold; unless you wish to call sunburn, sunstroke, chills and frostbite diseases. I still challenge any physician or health authority who believes there is a disease directly or indirectly caused by cold to define the disease. I still insist that when a physician or health officer speaks of a "cold" or "colds" he is not quite certain what he means, for if he were clear about it he could readily define the disease entity. No physician or health officer dares to commit himself in a written or printed definition of a "cold," for the excellent reason that his definition would be sure to fall short of what some other physician or health officer of equal standing and authority would give and it would never do to have them all quarreling over the question "What is a Cold if Anything?" But here's a preposterous attempt at a definition, or at least it purports to be an explanation of just how you contract a "cold." This is by a former health commissioner of one of the great cities, a man who has about as much right as anybody to pose as an authority on health matters. His explanation of the way that which he calls a "cold" happens is not more preposterous than the far fetched theories which physicians and health officers generally, who still harbor cold delusion, summon to their aid in propagating the superstition, but it happens to be a little more specific or detailed and so, I hope, even the dumbest reader will see how ridiculous it is. Let Dr. Baloney (this isn't his name, but it would fit fairly well) take the floor:

"When you have a cold the tissues of the nose become red and considerably swollen. There is a feeling of heat and pain. The four cardinal symptoms—redness, swelling, heat and pain—are the signs of inflammation. A cold then is really an inflammation of the nasal or throat tissues. The trouble may extend to the ears, or to the bronchial tubes and lungs. "When any part of the body becomes inflamed, its powers of resistance are lowered. This means that many germs may find their way into the tissues to add strength to the forces of evil already entrenched there. No longer are you fighting the germs of the common cold alone, but you are being attacked by the pneumonia germ and the pus germs. This is a unique elucidation. The good old stuff about "lowered resistance" is there, but notice that according to this notion the inflammation in the nose is the cause of lowering of resistance. Generally the old fogies have it the other way, that is, they calmly assume that getting one's feet wet or a cold draft or something "lowers resistance" and as a consequence the "cold" develops. This former health commissioner, however, seems fond of novel and original ideas. He starts off with the "cold" all established and then he explains how you contract it. There are many readers who will find this explanation quite satisfactory. But I believe there are about as many, these

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Hey, There, Look Out, The Trainsman Said. And the English tourist did, and lost his head. For the third grade children we present a paragraph from the advice given to the public by a former health commissioner of a great city. The children, we hope, can tell us what is wrong with it:

"Fresh cool air never gave anybody a cold. Getting chilled is bad, because the chilling lowers the resistance, but don't be afraid to breathe fresh air day and night, summer and winter. Our own notion is that if chilling is bad or renders one any more liable to sickness than one would be if not chilled, a person is a fool to take any chances with gold or cool air or anything which might chill the body or any part of it. Only an idiot, it seems to us, would open his bed room window at night if a draft of cold air endangers health in any way. We believe it is an insult to anybody's intelligence to advise him to get plenty of fresh air out of doors or to wear a heavy coat or to wear a heavy blanket. We think it is a gratuitous insult to the public when a health officer issues a warning against letting wet feet or wearing insufficient clothing. We insist that any normal child of 3 years knows enough to take his hand off a hot stove if it burns him, and he knows enough to come in out of the cold when the cold is uncomfortable. This, we maintain, is a better guide, for good hygiene, than any idiotic advice issued by health authorities, doctors or parents. Instinct is safer than any fool rules."

Get Your Feet Warm

The somersaults are bringing back smiles and warm feet, all in two weeks time. In a year's time I'll qualify for Sunny Jim's family or a circus troupe. Sincerely thank you for your help and patience. (A. M. S.) Answer—Dignity usually has cold feet. Upset it and maybe your leg will get warm again. Is it healthy to sleep with the hicks in a brooder house that is large and has plenty of fresh air circulating in it? The bedding is taken outdoors and aired every day. (B. E. H.) Answer—The proximity of the hicks or brooders doesn't detract from the healthfulness of the house for sleeping. Brooders heated with oil or gas burners are just as unhealthy as other stoves or lamps burning in a bedroom unless connected with flue or otherwise arranged so the fumes or products of combustion will be carried out of the room. Dr. Dean will answer all signed letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed. CHARM SCHOOL

A young reader writes that books on etiquette and charm which I recommended are "too stiff and deal with nothing but the traditional manifestations of good manners and the rules and regulations are cold and without personality." The Earl of Chesterfield said and I wonder how many boys have read Chesterfield's Letters to his Son—"Manners must adorn knowledge and smooth its way through the world."

My young reader is right, the etiquette books are stiff and their rules and regulations do lack perspective. All codes are impersonal and unpalatable. But let me tell him and his convenient friends that manners depend on more fundamental qualities than mere polish and timely knowledge of what to do and when to do it.

Good manners depend upon understanding and sympathy, on desire to refrain from offending and on desire to put others at ease, on desire to give others pleasure.

While the mechanics of good manners can be taught in a school, they can be taught and acquired much better in the home. They should be obtained by a natural process of daily growth and become as much a part of a boy or girl as eyebrows.

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER

Stepmother. As a young stepmother I have all sorts of problems. My ten-year-old stepson is extremely lazy and has a convenient habit of forgetting everything he does not want to remember. He is guilty of Eusebius, not because he doesn't want to, but because he doesn't want to get up when he is awake. Please send me a leaflet on this subject.

My eight-year-old stepdaughter wanted her best stockings washed. I was busy and asked her why she didn't do it. She washed them as clean as I can and enjoyed it because it was novel and because she was helping me. Her father said she was a pretty pass when the kids had to wash their own clothes. Which of us is right?

Stepmother. You are. And I should say the ten-year-old boy to washing some of his bedding. I am glad, "Stepmother," that you are happy and that you understand your stepdaughter. A young girl marries a man whose house is full of children, that she needs a lot of love to offset some of the disadvantages of marrying a whole family.

Cutting Up. Do you think it right for a boy to own a car when he does not really need it, but has it just for pleasure (not spoonying)?

Young Boy. Answer—I should regret having a boy whom I could not trust with a car. That fact would be a reflection on my training. How many fathers allow their children to drive a car when they are younger than the law provides? Guilty ones, please stand up.

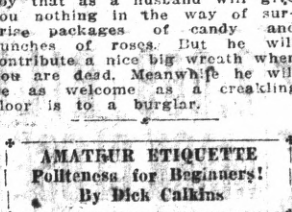

Start In Early. I am going to have a party for my fourteen-year-old daughter. Should I invite a few boys? Some mothers say No decidedly. I know never was allowed to go to a party when a girl, if boys were invited. Consequently I never was invited. While after the second of third grade and thereafter never felt quite at ease when boys were present. I was eighteen before I ever kept company with a young man.

Wondering Mother. Answer—I believe in separating flaming matches from gasoline, and I never have tried mixing water with kerosene oil in a pan. But if anyone will tell me of a good reason why we should keep boys and girls apart in the innocent enjoyment of an emotional and recreational life which is necessary for the development of young people, I should like to know.

Nice Boy, BUT— I was going with a nice boy friend for several months and during this period my birthday came, but I did not receive even a card from him. He never offers to take me out except home,

The Marriage Game As Played to a Decision Every Day By Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hatton

A MONOLOGUE BY MR.

Mr.—I know it's considered a joke but the fact is that if the upbringing of boys and girls could be entrusted to the influence of unmarried guardians there would be hardly a seventeen-year-old roue or a fifteen-year-old Young Lady living her own life anywhere to be seen. I've been watching 'em and I am shocked to observe that the majority of parents are frightened to death of their children. In the average well-to-do home, you will find that Junior coerces his father by bare threats to buy him his own automobile—and a good one, too. The average girl who ought to be still in pinafores and pig-tails sometimes condescends to command her mother to arrange for three new party frocks with made-to-order slippers to match. Divine vengeance is promised by sweet sixteen if her mother fails or neglects to come across. If I tell our son that I can't dig up $2000 for a new Glider car he refuses to speak to me at the table and when he wants extra spending money he writes me a formal note about it and mails it to my office. You have no more control over our Louise although she's only a child in high school. She forbade you going to the reception to Lord Gimerok because she said you would make yourself conspicuous by not smoking a cigarette and tossing off a few cocktails. Yet, these are our children, our flesh and blood and I've decided that all the fault lies with us. We are too easy on them. We should farm them out to intelligent, cultured people, themselves without children who would be free from the idiotic sentimentality which seems to transform parents into simpletons.

SYNOPSIS

John Ballard rises from poor boy to District Attorneyship. He later marries Phila, but through mischance she marries Phil Hardin, his old chum, now President of a powerful railroad, and tool in the hands of Jordan, money king. Their greed causes a grave accident. John grimly prosecutes them. Phil contemptibly plans to use a college brawl, in which John killed a man to protect him, as a club over John. Phil, revealing his plan to his wife, learns that she loves John. Infuriated, he purposes to go straight to John and have it out with him.

And Phil, therefore, went to see Ballard that night in a far better mood, from Jordan's point of view, than Jordan could ever have believed it possible for him to attain. It was as a motive, was not it? He was about to do a dastardly and contemptible thing; he had meant to do it only because he must, because Jordan had the power to send him to his will.

Now everything was changed. He hated Ballard now, as well as feared him. He wanted, for reasons of his own, to drag John down. Self preservation, powerful though it was as a motive, was no longer his only one. Jealousy was added to it. It was impossible for him, being what he was, to believe that, now that he knew the truth, John would not at the first opportunity, divorce him and marry Ballard.

That was what, in her place, he would most certainly have done. And he was incapable of understanding the type of mind that is capable of making a great reparation for the sake of a principle. That was something wholly left out of his make-up.

He sat out, after dinner, and made his way to the house in which John Ballard lived—an apartment building, in a good part of the town, in which John had for some time occupied a comfortable suite of rooms. The hall boy was doubtful as to whether Mr. Ballard would see anyone—at Phil's insistence, however, he telephoned, and John said Phil was to come up. John, tired and exhausted, clad in a dressing gown and slippers, opened the door.

"How long have you been making love to my wife?"

"Hello, Phil!" he said, his voice friendly and warm. "Come in, old man. Sit down. Lord—I'm tired. So am I," said Phil, rather grimly. "No doubt it," said John. "Look here—I want you to understand why I went after you the way I did this morning. I know what you're up against with Jordan. I know a whole lot more than you think I do, Phil, about many things. And I want to be your friend, and to save you, if I can. But there's only one way in which I can do it, and that's the way I've told you."

So I hear you say," said Phil. "You stared at him. Phil's man. He gazed at him. He had been delighted when he had heard that Phil was downstairs; he had leaped to the conclusion that Phil had seen the light, and had come to surrender. But this manner—puzzled him. Phil didn't act like a man prepared to confess wrong doing and attempt restitution.

"Well," said John. "You've thought over what I said, Phil, have you?" "Yes, I have said," said Phil. "And what have you decided?" "To tell you to go to the devil!" said Phil. John sprang to his feet, staring at his friend with incredulous eyes. "Phil!" he cried. "What do you mean? What's happened to you?" "Nothing. But something's going to happen to you," said Phil, truculently. "A fine whited sepulchre you are! How long have you been making love to my wife?" "Phil," he said, quietly, "are you drunk?" "No! I'm not. I haven't had a drink since I saw you. And I'm not crazy, either. You can't worm your way out of this by pretend-

CORTEZ NOW DIVIDED HIS FORCES, ASSIGNING CAPTAINS ALVARADO, OLID AND SANDOVAL TO COMMAND THE THREE CAUSEWAYS LEADING TO THE CITY OF MEXICO. THE SIEGE BEGAN MAY 25, 1521. THE FIRST BLOW STRUCK WAS TO CUT OFF THE WATER SUPPLY, CARRIED BY CONDUITS FROM THE MAINLAND INTO THE CAPITAL. SUNDAY, JUNE 9, WAS THE DATE FIXED BY CORTEZ FOR THEIR FIRST GENERAL ASSAULT BY THE UNITED FORCES OF THE SPANIARDS. THEIR ENORMOUS HORDE OF INDIAN ALLIES SUPPORTED BY THE FLEET, THE CAPITAL OF THE AZTECS WAS NOW COMPLETELY ISOLATED EXCEPT FOR THE COMING AND GOING OF SWIFT GALLEYS WHICH IN SPITE OF THE VIGILANCE OF THE BRIGANTINES FREQUENTLY MANAGED TO ESCAPE CAPTURE. THE ATTACKING COLUMN LED BY CORTEZ FOUND THE BRIDGES SPANNING THE CANALS WHICH AT INTERVALS DIVIDED THE CAUSEWAYS—HAD BEEN DESTROYED BY THE AZTECS. EACH OF THESE OPEN CANALS THE MEXICANS HAD ERECTED BARRICADES AND DEFENDED THEM FURIOUSLY. NEVERTHELESS, WITH THE AID OF THE BRIGANTINES WHICH MOVED ALONG EACH SIDE OF THE CAUSEWAY AND POWRED A HEAVY FIRE INTO THE AZTECS' INTRENCHMENTS AT EACH BRIDGE, AFTER A FEW HOURS' FIGHTING THE SPANIARDS MANAGED TO PENETRATE TO THE MAIN SQUARE OF THE CITY.

IN THE MAIN SQUARE STOOD THE GREAT TEMPLE, WHICH PREVIOUSLY HAD BEEN BLOODY WITH FIGHTING. THE SPANIARDS, THE ARTILLERY CARRIED BY CARRIAGES, AND THE AZTECS AND FINALLY CORTEZ, RAISING HIS BATTLE CRY OF "SANTIAGO," LED A CHARGE WHICH DROVE THE AZTECS PELL MELL INTO THE SACRED INCLOSURE OF THE TEMPLE. THERE THE SCENE OF THE PREVIOUS CONFLICT ON THIS SAME GROUND WAS REPEATED. THE PRIESTS, FROM THE TERRACES OF THE PYRAMID, CALLED ON THE GOD OF WAR AND ANIMATED THE WARRIORS FIGHTING BELOW WHILE OVER THE DIN AND CRASH OF BATTLE SOUNDED THE MOURNFUL BOOMING OF THE GREAT WAR DRUM ON THE SUMMIT OF THE TEMPLE. AGAIN THE PRIMITIVE WEAPONS OF THE MEXICANS WERE INADEQUATE TO WITHSTAND THE SPANISH STEEL. AFTER A BRIEF, BUT VERY FIERCE, STRUGGLE THE CHRISTIANS REACHED THE TOP OF THE PYRAMID AND SMASHED THE IDOLS, BURNING DOWN TO THE COURTYARD ACCOMPANIED BY THE BODIES OF THE PRIESTS WHO SERVED THE BLOOD STAINED ALTARS.

Ladies' Aid Of Stege Presbyterian Has "School Day"

The Ladies' Aid society of the Stege Presbyterian church enjoyed "a day at school" yesterday and the event was one of the most interesting and amusing that was held by the group this year.

Mrs. D. G. McGrew was "Miss Knowitall" the teacher who had charge of the class and Mrs. Adeline McCarthy, the president of the society, acted as "superintendent." Each member assumed her maiden name.

The class was opened by Mrs. McGrew and Miss Oliver Weir led in the songs. Miss Helen Dodge led the class in the Lord's Prayer.

Scripture was read by Miss Weir and this was followed by a geography lesson. This lesson consisted of questions about different cities.

Roll call then followed and those who were "lucky" were given the usual "black mark."

Mrs. McGrew then gave a recitation and Mrs. McCarthy complimented the class upon its excellent behavior and delivered the address that all school superintendents are supposed to be addressed to.

This was followed by recess and at this time the business of the society was transacted under the direction of the Mrs. McCarthy.

Physical education exercises followed this session and then the "class" filed back to the school room where a Dutch song was rendered by Mrs. Little Carico and Mrs. Anna Thompson.

A grammar exercise was held and a number of sentences were outlined. The "student" who completed the sentences in the correct manner was given a prize. This prize fell to Mrs. McCarthy.

A history lesson, dealing with the history of each pastor of the Stege church concluded the school day and the class filed out to the Sunday school room where refreshments were served.

These duties were packed in a tin "lunch-pail" and the napkins were decorated with scenes from Mother Goose land.

The success of this amusing affair was due to the work of Mrs. McGrew and Mrs. I. C. Thompson who arranged everything on the program. These ladies were hostesses of the day and a most amusing time was enjoyed.

BUSINESS WOMEN PREPARING FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Celebrating the second birthday of their organization, the members of the Business and Professional Women's club of Richmond, have completed arrangements for their anniversary dinner at the Hotel Carquinez next Tuesday evening.

One hundred members and guests are expected to enjoy the dinner and program of entertainment and speech making.

The speaker of the evening will be Prof. Frank M. Russell, occupying the chair of political science at the University of California.

Prof. Russell, who recently returned from Europe, will present the economic conditions in continental Europe and at the same time will parallel these conditions with existing economic conditions in the United States.

Among the entertainment features will be Tom Morris and his Spanish concertina; Arcate Winchell, Richmond's popular singer and business man who will be accompanied by Mrs. Dennis Shaw.

Dr. Rosa Powell, first president of the club, will be among the honored guests. Other invited guests include representatives of the various business and professional women's clubs about the bay, including Oakland; Berkeley, Alameda, San Leandro, Napa, Palmdale, Vallejo and Martinez.

Richmond's civic leaders, service club presidents and Mayor Mattie Chandler who is also a member of the club.

Officers of the Business and Professional Women's club are Mrs. Norma Goettel, president; Dorothy Hunn, first vice president; Ruby Bryant, second vice president; Helen K. Kingsbury, secretary; Mrs. Helen Campbell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Emma Genzel, treasurer.

Elaborate preparations for the event have been made by the general committee of arrangements, headed by Mrs. Bryant, general chairman; Mrs. Genzel, decorations; Dr. Powell, program; Miss Marie Whitesides, finance, and Mrs. Goettel, reception.

PLANS MADE TO OUST STEWARD OF $20,000,000

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Musical circles are in a turmoil today over the fight to oust Dr. Eugene A. Noble as the steward and real administrator of the $20,000,000 Juillard Foundation.

Plans are under way for the formation of the New York Protective Music League which aims to compel Dr. Noble to use the Juillard millions as provided by the will of the late philanthropist.

Pierre V. Key, editor and publisher of Musical Digest, is one of the chief assailants of Dr. Noble's regime. He said:

"I think Dr. Noble and the trustees have not been faithful to their trust. Dr. Noble himself is not qualified for the post by experience, knowledge or temperament. From the outset he has created ill-will and inasmuch as a public benefactor must have the good will of the public, the foundation seriously should consider its position of having him at the head."

Walter Damosch has been prominently mentioned in those quarters opposed to Dr. Noble as an ideal man to administer the Juillard fund, but so far the conductor has refused to be quoted on the subject.

Dr. Noble says that the trustees are satisfied that the charge that the funds have been idle is untrue. He said:

"We are bound to consider all appeals with great care. We cannot afford to be reckless in administering a fund established for such a splendid cause as this one. There have been lots of disappointments in the minds of persons convinced that their own projects and plans are the most important ones that could be presented to us for assistance. It is not surprising that there should be some criticism."

A meeting will be held Saturday afternoon at which plans for concerted action against Dr. Noble will be made. Dr. Noble was asked to attend this meeting, but pleaded another engagement.

H. O. Good of the Musical Courier, Alfred Human, editor and publisher of Singing; Miss Marion Holcombe, well known musician and writer, and Kenneth M. Bradley, formerly associated with Dr. Noble as educational director of the Juillard fund, are among those opposed to Dr. Noble.

SOCIETY GIRL IS SCOLDED BY MORRIS GEST

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21.—Elinor Patterson, beautiful Chicago society girl who stars as the nun in "The Miracle," received one of the few scoldings of her life here today.

Morris Gest, famous producer of great theatrical spectacles, was the intrepid scold. His mild rebuke was administered because Miss Patterson, defying all managerial and parental protests, attempted to fly late yesterday from San Francisco to Los Angeles, where "The Miracle" opens next week.

Miss Patterson, accompanied by her understudy, Miss Louise Segal, took off from a San Francisco flying field despite warning of bad weather in southern California. The plane was forced down at Bakersfield, and the two young women continued their journey to Los Angeles partly by mail truck and the rest of the way in a broken-down flivver. They reached here late last night none the worse for their adventure.

Admiral Dewey Camp Invited to Oakland Parade

The Admiral Dewey Camp of United Spanish War Veterans last night received an invitation from the Allied Veterans of Oakland to participate in a parade to be staged January 31 at Oakland in honor of the ground breaking ceremonies for the Veteran's Memorial hall in Oakland. The auxiliary was also invited to a luncheon which was broadcast to every veteran organization in this city.

An invitation was also received from the San Francisco lodge to attend the installation ceremonies there on Wednesday night.

The local lodge went on record as endorsing the proposal of the Yountville lodge asking the legislature to appropriate funds for construction of fire proof buildings at the Yountville soldier's home. It is stated that the buildings are fire traps and that instant action should be taken to remedy this situation.

Government Bill Of County Sent To Legislature

Contra Costa's county government bill including recommendations of the grand jury, was sent to Sacramento yesterday to be presented in the legislature by the Contra Costa members.

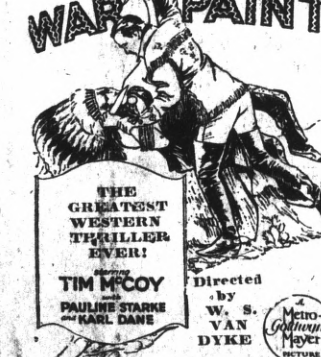

Few changes are understood to be embodied in the bill. Few of the requests for either additional deputies or increased salaries for present deputies submitted by many officials were approved by the jury.

CORTEZ STARS IN PICTURE AT THE RICHMOND

If ever a picture deserved the adjective—stupendous—Frank Lloyd's "The Eagle of the Sea" which opened at the Richmond last night, is it! After sitting through eight reels of romance, thrills, smiles and tears, this writer is convinced that the film is worth every cent of the great fortune Paramount must have poured into its making.

Although of a spectacular nature, "The Eagle of the Sea" cannot be classified as such. Romantic, it is more than a romance. Although historical, thrilling and adventurous, it cannot be tabulated as any of these. It is all of the above woven together with a deftness of which only Frank Lloyd is capable.

The story, that of the most adventurous body of men ever gathered—weather-beaten buccaners of the Spanish Main—is pictured so accurately that one views it he wonders whether the spirits of those old sea-dogs didn't come to life while the picture was being made.

The plot's action hinges on Jean Lafitte, terror of the Mexican Gulf, who because he aided General Jackson in the Battle of New Orleans, was pardoned for his depredations as a pirate. Learning of a scheme to involve England and the United States in war, he resumes his sea-roving to capture the plotters. A terrific battle takes place in which Jean violates his parole and defeats his enemies.

Florence Vidor and Ricardo Cortez, the two featured players, deserve particular praise. As the toast of New Orleans, Miss Vidor has the best role of her career. Cortez, the dashing devil-may-care pirate, sweeps you off your feet by his audacity.

Other features on the same program include "Good Morning Nurse," a Mack Sennett comedy; and a "Matt and Jeff" cartoon.

SENATOR HITS U. S. POLICY ON VET LOANS

Instead of a cash bonus, the government gave the war veterans an insurance certificate to repay them in part for the financial losses they suffered by reason of their service in the war. The policies now have a loan value. Thousands of veterans in all parts of the country, in need of cash, have been refused loans by the banks. Bills to enable the government to make such loans have been presented to both house and senate.

By KEY PITTMAN
U. S. Senator from Nevada
(Written expressly for Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—I favored the cash bonus. I denounced the insurance certificate as a fake.

I then said, and I now repeat, that if the banks had no sufficient resources to handle these loans the United States government certainly had sufficient resources to do it.

We never should have sent these boys to three ball pawnbrokers or to any type of bank that might charge usurious rates or otherwise sap the value of the veterans' insurance policies.

There was never any sense in sending these boys to outsiders who, forgetting the service they rendered on foreign fields, might exploit their pressing need for a loan.

The government should correct its mistake without further delay. Funds are readily available. The necessary legislation could be passed in less time than it would take to talk about it. The very evident duty of the government is to furnish the veterans these loans under terms that will in no way dissipate the value of their insurance policies.

ARMY OFFICER HAS PART IN "WAR PAINT"

The person, or persons, who picked Col. Tim McCoy for a western film star should have a medal.

At last the screen has a new face and figure which radiates personal magnetism and doubtless will attract thousands of film fans who are tired of looking at some of the old types of western heroes who depend largely on six-shooters and horses to put them across.

McCoy, young and goodlooking, has the appearance of one from "the great open spaces." He looks western and acts western. He has a natural grace which ought to take the place of any lack of screen technique.

McCoy goes through his scenes as though no camera were present to record them. It is not acting with him in any sense of the word. Rather, with him, it is business of dealing with Indians and soldiers just as he has dealt with both on the plains and on the field of battle.

This new western hero is the son of a former army officer and was reared among things military. In fact his own army record is not a mean one—having been the youngest colonel in the United States army and is now a brigadier general of Wyoming state militia.

In their search for a new western face M-G-M officials are said to have discarded all the available screen talent about Hollywood and taken up the search elsewhere. They found McCoy on his big Wyoming ranch—a gentleman rancher who had never dreamed of a career before the camera.

The next job was to persuade him to give up ranching and take up acting. His first screen appearance, in "War Paint," which opened yesterday at the California theatre, proves that M-G-M made no mistake. He is ably supported by Pauline Starke, Karl Dane and a number of other well known players.

Other features on the same program include the beginning of a new series, better than "The Leather Pushers," "The Collegians," featuring George Lewis and Hayden Stevenson; "Marvels in Motion"; "International News"; and Larry Canelo at the organ.

Local Girl Is Prize Winner

Miss Eunice Winkler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Winkler, 2323 Clinton avenue, who recently entertained in San Francisco and Alameda, has been chosen the winner of the costume artists' ball held last Friday and Saturday evenings.

Miss Winkler's costume was a Spanish shawl, light pink roses with green leaves embroidered on it. She was the only person gown as a Spanish girl. She was selected by the nine judges who also attended the ball.

BUILDERS LAY PLANS FOR BIG BANQUET FRIDAY

Committees for the banquet to be held by the Richmond Builders exchange on Friday night, were drawn last night. This banquet will be the first of those to be given at the last meeting nights of the month. The dinner will be served at 6:30 and an entertainment will follow.

Those whose names were drawn last night were Ed Burg, S. C. Rogers, John I. Collins, V. G. Blake, A. E. F. Carson, B. J. Ballantyne, Frank Auzer, Frank Smith, R. P. Dunn, and a representative of the American Marble and Mosaic company of San Francisco.

Those appointed to take charge of the committee were R. P. Dunn, Frank Smith and Ed Burg.

Burke Council To Take Communion

The quarterly communion of the Burke council of Y. M. I. will be held at the 8 o'clock mass on Sunday morning at St. John's church in El Cerrito. It was announced yesterday. Breakfast will follow at the Miami Inn. Father A. J. Hennigan, pastor of the church, will be the speaker at the breakfast.

Three Mexicans Held For Illegal Entry To Nation

Eight officials of the immigration service aided by deputies from the office of Sheriff R. R. Veale arrested two men and one woman in a raid on several Pittsburg houses Thursday on a charge of entering the United States from Mexico unlawfully.

Those arrested were Consuelo Rodriguez, 20, Simon Rodriguez, 26, and C. Rodriguez, 25. The trio were taken into custody following information given immigration officers that they lacked passports. They are booked at the county jail en route to the immigration office, which will probably deport them if investigation reveals the illegal entry claimed.

LABOR MARKET SHOWS LITTLE YEARLY DECLINE

The California Labor Market Bulletin, for January, 1927, issued today by Walter G. Mathewson, commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, shows a decrease of eight tenths of one percent in employment in December, 1926, compared with December, 1925. The Labor Market Bulletin shows that the same 682 representative manufacturing establishments which employed 137,983 workers in December, 1925, employed 136,851 workers in December, 1926. The total weekly payroll for the same representative establishments was $4,034,107 in December, 1925, and was $4,011,642 in December, 1926. These figures represent a decrease of eight tenths of one percent in employment and six tenths of one percent in total weekly payroll.

Among the groups of industries showing increases in employment are the chemicals, oils, paints, etc., 10.3 percent; miscellaneous industries, 24.0 percent; clothing, millinery, and laundering, 3.2 percent; and metals, machinery, and conveyances, 0.7 percent. Decreases in employment are shown in the following industries: Wood manufactures, 6.8 percent; stone, clay, and glass products, 6.2 percent; textiles, 5.2 percent; and printing and paper goods, 3.7 percent.

The average weekly earnings of workers in manufacturing establishments in December, 1926, were a trifle higher than in December, 1925. In December, 1926, the average weekly earnings were $29.31, compared with $29.24 for the corresponding months last year. Among the groups of industries showing higher average weekly earnings for December, 1926, are the following: Chemicals, oil, and paints, $35.83; printing, and paper goods, $33.46; metals, machinery, and conveyances, $31.10 and water, light and power, $30.21. According to Louis Bloch, statistician for the bureau of labor statistics, the percentages of decrease in the volume of employment and payroll shown in the latest issue of the Labor Market Bulletin are too insignificant to warrant the conclusion that business conditions in December, 1926, were worse than in December, 1925.

Work To Start On New Ferry Pier

A new pier for the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry company at Point San Quentin will be constructed, following the approval by the chief of engineers at Washington D. C. of the plans for the pier. Construction is expected to start within the next two weeks, and it is thought will be completed by the first of June.

The new pier will extend 3760 feet into the bay and is to be built on to the 900 ft. pier in use at the present time. Thirty feet of water at the terminal will provide access for ocean going steamers. The pier will be constructed of creosoted piles on a concrete surfaced floor, it was stated. The cost is estimated at $250,000.

FOREIGNERS IN CHINA ARE IN GRAVE DANGER

Chinese troops equally as well or better equipped. From the towns up the Yangtze river American destroyers are bringing into Shanghai such refugees as can reach the river. With thousands of other foreigners trying to get out, the situation was said to be even more serious than the Boxer Rebellion.

It was explained that the naval forces of the world powers were able to subdue the Chinese hordes at that time. Today military and naval experts say that anything but temporary resistance is impossible and the decision has been reached that all white people must leave China.

Only by the promptest action, attended with the best of luck, can the Americans hope to escape officials declared.

President Coolidge today promised every possible protection, with all the powers with interests in China are streaming for the ports. The remainder of the American fleet at Manila is under orders to proceed to Shanghai and expected to get under way during the night.

The destroyer Stewart is rushing from Manila to Chin Wang Toa with ammunition for the regiment of American infantry which is part of the International patrol of the Peking-Tien-Tsin railway. Brig. Gen. Joseph C. Castner is in command, with about 900 infantrymen. A Japanese outfit, on one side of them and an Italian regiment on the other, French and British also are in the patrol.

On the ability of these troops to keep the railroad open depends the safety of the large American colony in Peking and the hundreds of Americans from other places who are making their way to Peking for concentration.

It was significantly pointed out that the troops were unable to keep the line open when the revolution in China started one year ago and are doing so now because there is no large concentration of Chinese troops in that vicinity.

But against this handful of men China has an army of 1,200,000 well-equipped and trained troops in the field, a reserve of 4,000,000 who have seen military service and 15,000,000 more men available for military service. They are equipped with machine guns, field artillery, airplanes, bombs and the most modern weapons of war of all kinds. They are well officered and well trained.

A photograph received at the war department here today showed a field headquarters in China. In front of the commandant's tent was a modern wireless station for communicating with other units. It is much better equipment than anything in the American army, officials said.

The sailing of the Goldstar was reported to the Navy Department by Admiral C. S. Williams, commander in chief of the American Asiatic fleet. Although her destination is Cavite, in the Philippines, the Navy Department expects her to stop there only long enough to take on supplies and proceed to Shanghai.

Admiral Williams reported the most alarming conditions. He transmitted a message from Rear Admiral H. H. Hough, commander of the American Yangtze patrol, in which he said that panic-stricken American and British refugees are pouring into river towns in their efforts to get out as quickly as possible. At Chung-King, 85

MECHANICS TO BUILD BANK IN EL CERRITO

The state banking commissioner yesterday granted permission to the Mechanics Bank for the establishment of a branch bank to be located on the west side of San Pablo avenue at Manilla in the Richmond Annex tract. Its situation on the boundary line between Richmond and El Cerrito assures service for both cities.

Attorneys Pierce and Carlson put the application for the branch before the state commissioner several months ago.

It was stated by President E. M. Downer of the Mechanics Bank that further plans for the construction of the bank will be announced in the near future.

Oakland Man Is Arrested On Liquor Charge

B. Stefani, 44, of 1703 Eighty-third avenue, Oakland, was arrested in El Cerrito Thursday night on a charge of illegal possession of liquor. County drug agents claim that they found a small amount of liquor in Stefani's car. He is in the county jail in Martinez, awaiting trial.

British and 25 Americans have concentrated from the interior. They sent word to those they left behind to get out as quickly as possible. Rear Admiral Hough stated.

John A. Van MacMurray, American minister to China, who was on his way to the United States, has been ordered to return to Peking to do what he can to afford protection to Americans.

Frank Buckalew of the Near East Relief organization gave an interesting talk on relief work done by the society before the Rotary club yesterday. George N. Rooker presided.

P. E. Krick, who is conducting a roll call in Richmond in the interests of the Red Cross, gave a five minute talk on the aims of the organization.

Rev. Harold Collins, assistant rector of St. Marks church, was admitted into the club. The introductory address was given by Rev. H. I. Oberholster, rector of St. Edmunds church.

The program for next Friday will consist of a song fest under the direction of L. B. McWood, one time member of the Dartmouth Rotary club. Dr. C. L. Abbott is in charge of the program.

J. W. Jones Seeks Custody Of Children

John W. Jones, local Standard Oil employee, yesterday secured a court order citing Mrs. Grace Jones Travers to appear before Superior Judge Murphy in Alameda county January 28, to show reason why custody of two minor children, Wilson and Stanley Jones, should be withheld from her former husband.

Mrs. Travers was granted custody of the two children in March, 1925, following the granting of interlocutory degree of divorce from Jones. It was stipulated that Jones should be allowed to visit the children at intervals. Clare D. Horner, counsel for the Richmond man, declares that the children were placed with a private family some months later, and that Mrs. Jones (Travers) went to southern California.

Mrs. Jones remarried after obtaining her final decree. She took the children with her to southern California in June of last year. Jones has been able to locate his former wife only since last Monday night.

Telegraphic service of the court order was made Thursday in Riverside, according to Horner.

Brake Testing To Start On Monday

Motorists of this city will have a chance to prove the superiority of their two wheel or four wheel brakes during the coming week. Chief of Police Dan Cox announced yesterday that next week will be brake testing week in this city and officers will give particular attention to investigating the condition of brakes and testing them for their holding power.

Motorists will be stopped anywhere in the city and will be ordered to speed up their car at least 25 miles per hour. A signal they will apply in brakes and the distance needed to make the stop will be measured and the condition of the brakes will be determined by the factor.

Motorists having faulty brakes will be given a citation to appear at the police station within five days with a certificate showing that the brakes have been adjusted.

A Great Sale of a Special Purchase of Men's Fancy Wool Imported Socks $1.35 pair or 3 pairs for $3.75

This is a mighty attractive offering, considering the facts of their newness, of their imported quality, and of their low pricing. The importer with whom we do an extensive business, gave us a worthy price concession which made it possible for us to give you likewise. Some are all wool, some are wool mixed in combined colorings of gray, brown, tan and blue, with stripes, figures, plaids and checks. An opportunity to save money.

LA BARBA WINS FROM CLARK IN TWELVE ROUNDS

(The Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 21. Fiedel La Barba retained his flyweight championship of the world tonight when he was awarded the decision over Elky Clark after twelve rounds at the New Garden.

Clark was outclassed in the early rounds but rallied strongly in the sixth when he had the Californian in distress. Clark showed improvement as the fight went on but Fiedel was too fast for him.

With coat collars turned up and hats pulled well down over their faces to ward off the steady drizzle, hundreds of fight fans lined up in front of the doors opening into the gallery sections of Madison Square Garden early this evening, patiently waiting for a peek at the first international championship match since 1923.

Fiedel La Barba, of Los Angeles, the defending champion and Elky Clark, of Scotland, European flyweight champion, weighed in this afternoon at almost the same weight to the ounce, both tipping the commission scales at 111 and 1/2 pounds, a half pound below the flyweight limit.

The prevailing odds of 2 to 1 in favor of the American remained unchanged as the hour of the opening bell drew closer. Youth, speed and the 12 round limit combined to strengthen the faith of the fans in the chances of La Barba. Most of Clark's fights have been over the twenty round route and he was believed to be a slow starter.

Despite the fact that the match gave little promise of an even, fiercely fought battle, it was estimated by Garden officials that a crowd of 18,000 jammed Tex Rickard's indoor arena.

Tonight's appearance was the second for La Barba in New York, the city in which he was born.

LONG SENTENCE GIVEN MARKET DUCK HUNTER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—California's wild ducks, about which so much has been said in recent weeks, will be permitted to find their way into the legitimate sportsman's bag (so far as one of the state's most notorious market hunters is concerned) for the remainder of this season. Taken at 2 A. M. Monday morning by Warden Shaarin, Willard Johnson and Gellmer, near Willows, while in the act of making a "big shot" the market hunter was taken before Justice L. P. Farnum of Willows, where he was assessed a total jail sentence of 225 days. The court decided that use of the "Long Tom," or extension automatic shotgun used by the hunter was good for 100 days; that night shooting was good for an equal sentence and that 25 days additional would be about right for having over the legal limit of birds. The warden found 100 birds on the ground after the market hunter's big gun had ceased firing.

Womans' Gym At U. C. To Be Completed Soon

BERKELEY, Jan. 19.—Women's athletics will come into their own at the University of California this spring with the completion of the new Phoebe Apperson Hearst Memorial gymnasium.

Built to accommodate 6000 women, the structure has five gym floors and three swimming pools in addition to various enclosed open-air courts. A gift of William Randolph Hearst to replace the old building given by his mother and destroyed by fire in 1922, it is the finest thing of its kind in the United States and probably in the world.

Administrative officers are already installed in the new gym offices and other units will be completed within a few weeks.

OXNARD—OXNARD BOULEVARD TO BE WIDENED
$150 each upon three parties taken in that city by Police Officers R. E. McHugh and Tom Long, with 200 wild ducks in their possession. Before paying the fine the three violators told the court they were engaged in running a game club near Willows, had killed the ducks the night before their arrest and were transporting them to San Francisco.

DUCK HUNTERS SHOOTING FROM MOTOR BOATS HAD A BAD WEEK IN SAN DIEGO COUNTY RECENTLY, ACCORDING TO REPORTS FROM THAT SECTION. A pair of violators taken by Warden Ed Giddens were fined $75 by the local justice. Still another was fined $50 for a similar offense.

Boy, 17, Swims From 60 Cents Into $25,000

George Young, 17-year-old Toronto lad, had just 60 cents when he plunged into Catalina channel, destined to win the greatest distance swim on record. As conqueror he was worth $25,000—the prize William Wrigley Jr. offered for the feat. The heroic youth is shown in telephoned picture being acclaimed a few moments after he turned the trick.

TIM VAHEY GETS NOOD OVER LIMAS

Joe Limas, the pride of El Cerrito, met his Waterloo last night in the person of the Hon. Tim Vahey, of San Francisco, who tips the scales at 145 pounds. The said Hon. Tim was given a six round decision over the Pride of El Cerrito in a fast and tough, for Limas, battle.

Out of the six rounds Vahey took five and the first round was declared a draw.

In the semi-windup, Buddy Ryan got a technical knockout over Ray Walker of Oakland in the fifth round when Walker's seconds threw in the time and custom honored towel.

Jerry Sylvia, of San Francisco said "hello" to Mickey Brown of Richmond in their four round main event. That was all Jerry would say and he went to the canvas for the count of ten after a minute and a half of fighting.

Mickey Britten, of Berkeley got a four round decision over Vincent Hayes of San Francisco, who substituted for Joe Diamond of Oakland.

Frankie Perry of Oakland out-boxed the highly touted Andy Capriola of Chicago in the four round event and was given the decision.

In the curtain raiser, Manuel Vasquez of Richmond, substituting for Bill Tietz was given a technical knockout over Jimmy Ryan of Oakland when Ryan's seconds threw in the towel in the third round.

A packed house witnessed the bouts.

GENE TUNNEY

Gene Tunney now playing yandeville in Minneapolis would chose Jack Dempsey as his opponent in the next title fight if the decision were put up to him. Said the champion, "of course I am under contract to Tex Rickard to fight any heavyweight selected but I believe that Jack Dempsey would attract a bigger gate with me than any other heavyweight."

TENNIS

The United States Lawn Tennis association announced today that it had been notified of the federation's favorable vote on the application of Germany for membership, but that the expected Davis cup challenge had not been forwarded.

MORE BASEBALL

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees says he is "sick of the whole scandal business." When the Colonel was asked if he would go to Chicago for Monday's meeting, he said, "Yes I am going out to the meeting Monday and I am going to find out what all this means. I'm sick of the whole business."

BASEBALL

Burleigh Grimes, now a Giant seems to have formed new habits. The veteran pitcher, who years ago was one of the last robins to send his contract to Uncle Wilber Robinson mailed his signed agreement to the Giants' office today. Grimes makes the seventeenth player to sign for McGraw.

Three new members were accepted into the Richmond Motorcycle club at its session on Thursday. They are Fred Hammond, James Cook and John Santella. Several events for the near future were planned at this time.

GAME WARDENS ORGANIZE AT EUREKA MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—

Sportsmen game wardens of Humboldt county were recently organized into a working body under direction and in cooperation with Patrolman Captain K. P. Allred. Walter B. Welch, special field assistant of California Fish and Game Commission in charge of sportsmen wardens, was present at a large meeting held at Eureka on Saturday night, January 15, at which time the wardens named J. C. Farlo, Jr., of that city, captain of their group, Captain T. H. named H. R. McMath, also of Eureka, as his first lieutenant.

Welch reports great interest in the protection of California's wild life on the part of Humboldt county sportsmen. At present Humboldt County Fish and Game Protective Association has a membership of 500, thus entitling that organization to the maximum of 10 volunteer wardens permitted any club.

Welch recently organized the sportsmen wardens of San Benito county, where J. V. Patton was named captain to cooperate with J. H. Hill, regular warden. San Benito County Fish and Game Protective association has but three wardens at present, but will name three more shortly.

Sportsmen at Morgan Hill, San Jose Clara county, have recently organized an active club and will name wardens to cooperate with Warden Ten Halloway soon. Marvellous Martin food and Reel club, at San Rafael, will do likewise.

EVENLY MATCHED

Harry Hamilton, who coaches both the Main high school basketball squad and the Roemer team in the San Antonio league, pitted his two teams against each other in a practice game. Both were so evenly matched that it required two extra sessions to decide the verdict, which was 26-25 in favor of the Roemers.

FORMER HIGH SCHOOL STAR ON O. C. TEAM

Rado Gospevic, former high school track and football star, has been signed up by Captain Joe Pine of the Olympic club of San Francisco. It was announced yesterday morning. Gospevic will have a try out for a position on the Olympic club track team this year.

Gospevic hurried the shot and placed at the local school and was a deciding factor in many of the track meets held here several seasons ago.

Coach Ivan W. Hill of the local high school, who coached Gospevic during his stay here, declared yesterday that aided by his coaching of the older men in the Olympic squad, Gospevic should take a position on the 1927 track team.

SWIMMING

Plans are getting into action for a channel swim across the Catalina channel which will be open for the members of the "wrecker sex" only. Long Beach has made a proposal to raise a fund of $10,000 to be added to the $15,000 donated by William Wrigley for the first woman to swim across the channel.

American telephone factories produce 110,000 different kinds of parts that go into the making of a modern telephone system.

San Pablo Nine Issues Challenge

A challenge emanating from the San Pablo Merchants, through their manager, Judge L. F. Grover, was yesterday directed to the winners of the Spaulding Mid-winter baseball league in the V-rate division, for a series of games to be played at First street park in Richmond.

It is understood that no new members will be signed by the teams after acceptance of the challenge.

The prize for the winner will be all of the gate receipts and five or ten dozen baseballs.

Fifty New Dressing Rooms For Women At City Natatorium

Fifty new dressing rooms will be constructed on the women's side of the Richmond municipal natatorium before the bath-house is reopened on about March 1, according to an announcement made yesterday by City Manager James A. McVittie. The materials are now being purchased and the work will be started within a few days.

The repair and painting work has been started at the natatorium and it is expected that the bath-house will be bright and shiny by the first of March.

CANADA WANTS YOUNG TO COME BACK TO HOME

(The Universal Service)

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—Canada wants George Young, youthful conqueror of the Catalina channel, as her own.

In a letter to Col. the Honorable W. H. Price today, Sir Edward Kemp urges that Canada try to retain Young for this country. He declared that Canadians would be presumptuous if they attempted to advise the youthful swimmer or his worthy mother unless they backed their words with something practical.

Sid Edward suited the action to the word by forwarding a cheque for $5,000. This money would be the nucleus of a fund, according to Col. Price, to be raised to found an endowed home for George Young's mother.

Junior Cagers Split Game With Edison Juniors

The Junior high school unlimited basketball team walked over the strong Edison junior high school team of Berkeley yesterday by a score of 21 to 7 in a fast and furious game.

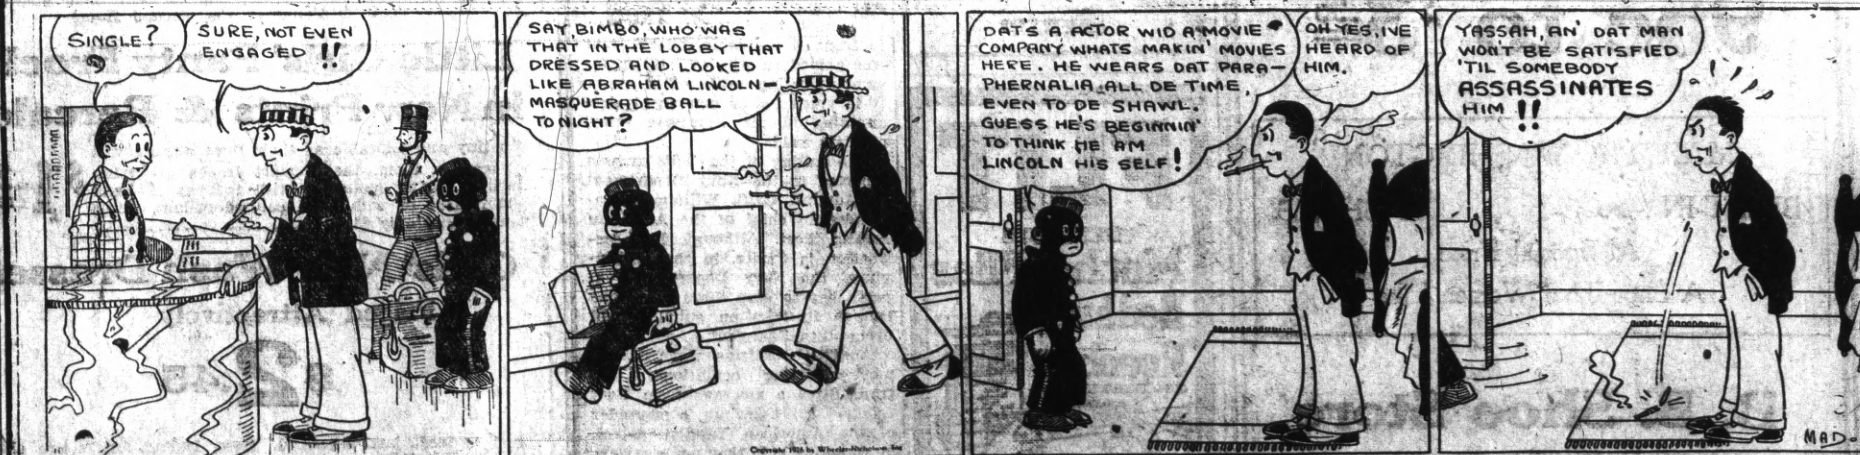

In the preliminary game the 120 pound team lost their game by a score of 11 to 9.

2,069 BILLS MARK CLOSE OF LEGISLATURE

C. Young, that unnecessary legislation should be avoided.

This leaves it to the many committees after reconvening on February 23 to do their best and bury in the archives a great mass of the wholly undigested material that is coming before them.

But there will be some important matters ahead.

The administration has set an example in sponsoring constructive bills.

These will cover reorganization of many departments of the state government and other equally progressive measures, not to omit an outstanding one proposing a way by which California can resume completion of its great state highway system.

Governor Young's splendid piece of work on the budget helped somewhat to stem the tide of bills, for it made unnecessary the introduction of scores of appropriation bills.

The budget will early engage the attention of the legislature at the second session.

The necessary legislative steps have been taken toward the organization of the tax commission, recommended by Governor C. C. Young.

Committees for the study of the water and forest conservation problem are allowed by legislation. This is the first move in a comprehensive program which Governor Young has outlined for state and federal co-operation.

Plans are in hand for a study of the prison system with relation to women offenders. A commission will take that up soon.

The grand total of bills, resolutions and proposed constitutional amendments for both houses for the first session was 2,069. This runs a bit more than the same session of 1925.

A group of squirrels recently placed one hundred telephones out of commission at Winchester, Va., by gnawing holes in the lead aerial cables which resulted in rain dripping through and grounding the wires.

Hendrik Hudson Kin Sues Wife For Divorce

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—That Percy K. Hudson, multi-millionaire and a direct descendant of Hendrik Hudson, the discoverer of the Hudson river, is suing for divorce became known today when Supreme Court Justice Levy granted him permission to amend his petition filed Dec. 9, his wife's birthday.

Mr. Hudson represented to the court that he now possessed evidence involving his wife with Julius Braun, head of a detective agency.

The rift in the Hudson home came on her birthday in 1925. A month later Mrs. Hudson—who was Elizabeth Csinoss, a Hungarian film beauty sued, charging cruelty. She stated he was worth $17,000,000 and placed a value of $600,000 on his estate at Syosset, L. I. In reply, he accused her of extravagance. He further stated she insisted upon living in her own apartment at No. 75 E. 55th St., to which he was not permitted a key and where he could see her only by appointment.

Justice Levy announced that in view of Mr. Hudson's new allegations he would take no action now on Mrs. Hudson's petition for temporary alimony of $1,000 a week.

Potters Union Names Officers

The Richmond Potters' union has chosen H. C. Thomas for the position of president during the coming year. Other officers installed at the same time are: Thomas Mortimer, vice-president; Thomas Beard, financial secretary; Edward Winters, defense secretary; George Smith, recording secretary; William Wilson, statistician; F. Gallagher, guard; W. Smith, inspector; R. Duffy, J. E. Deasey and Joe Seney, trustees. George Carr acted as installing officer.

unless Chaplin should drop the fight by paying everything the collectors demand. An appeal from a bureau decision would go through the board of tax appeals, estimated to require another two years, and then perhaps to the courts.

Although details of the government's action were not known here, it was stated that the claims presumably are "deficiency assessments" arising from alleged failure to pay the full amount of taxes alleged due for the years 1919 to 1924.

Stage folk and movie stars have displayed something of a flair for these cases, officials stated. Often they grow out of what the government contends are excessive exemption claims.

A recently settled case against Gloria Swanson came to light for the first time today. Gloria reported a $34,534 taxable income for 1921. Uncle Sam's experts figured it at $68,816.

Expenditure of $3,975 for jewelry, $1,200 for the upkeep of an "expensive automobile," $150 for the cure of a "physical defect" and other items were deducted by the screen celebrity as "business expenses."

She was required to pay $11,512 additional tax through dismissal of her appeal by the board of tax appeals on the grounds that the nature of the case was such that the appeal was unauthorized, and that it had been filed too late.

LITA BROKE
(By Universal Service)
By EDMOND BEHR
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21.—Claiming that she is "broke" and has a number of pressing debts, Mrs. Lita Grey Chaplin, through her attorneys, appealed directly to Secretary of Treasury Mellon today to release enough of Charlie Chaplin's funds to pay her court award of $14,400 for temporary alimony and legal expenses.

This unusual step was taken by Attorneys Lyndol Young and Edwin T. McMurray upon reading news dispatches from Washington that the government had refused to let up on any portion of the film comedian's fortune.

HUMANITARIAN PLEA
"Our appeal to Secretary Mellon was made on a humanitarian basis," Attorney Young explained this afternoon. "We called to his attention the fact that Mrs. Chaplin and her two babies have been without funds for two months and are now in need."

"Since the separation last November, Mrs. Chaplin has had to borrow money for living expenses and it has come to the point where these loans must be repaid."

"The government's tax claims against Chaplin amount to approximately $1,100,000. Several times this amount is now under control of the treasury department and I believe that within a few days the government will release enough to pay Mrs. Chaplin her comparatively small sum."

Thus far no reply has been received from Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair, who was asked by telegram yesterday to grant the same request that went to Secretary Mellon today.

There was a temporary lull in the Chaplin case today, with Attorney Gavin McNab, chief of the screen star's forces, in San Francisco.

TO POST BOND
(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Nathan

Burkan, attorney for Charlie Chaplin, announced late today that he had made arrangements to furnish a surety bond of several million dollars to the government, which he said would release the $1,500,000 cash which the federal authorities have tied up pending the outcome of the tax suit against the film comedian.

The funds are desired, Burkan said, to finance work on motion picture projects, especially Chaplin's half completed film "The Circus."

SAN FRANCISCO NIGHT HELD BY LOCAL SCIOTS

One of the biggest nights of the year was enjoyed by the Richmond Pyramid of Sciots last night in the Richmond club house. It was San Francisco night and a large gathering of residents of the trans-bay city, who are members of the San Francisco Pyramid journeyed by auto, street car and foot here to again taste Richmond's hospitality.

The event of the evening was the presentation of the new short form ceremonial as recently adopted by the Santa Cruz convention. The supreme ritual committee exemplified the work.

George Boyce, of Alameda acted as Toparch; George Loher of Richmond as mob; Homer W. Patterson of Richmond as amicus and D. M. Storico of Alameda acted as pastphor.

This presentation met with general approval with the large gathering.

Dick Glissman and his minstrels from San Francisco were on hand and gave the local members a taste of real amusement.

The local Pyramid will journey to San Francisco on Friday night in company with other Pyramids of the bay section. Richmond members have chartered a special stage and those wishing to make the trip by stage must make reservations with George Loher or Homer Patterson.

Prior to last night's meet the Sciots' band held practice under the direction of Adolph Nelson. Nelson will be in Richmond on Monday evenings to help beginners learn the use of wind instruments.

Following the meeting the group formed in line, a la army mess style, and gathered in the "delicious refreshments."

No date has been set for the big Charity show to be given in the near future.

cans to relinquish their titles, Mexico has violated the Oregon treaty, President Coolidge insists.

President Coolidge further insists that the American system of laws, its constitution, institutions and even the form of society guarantees to every person the right to own and maintain their property.

Foreigners in this country are protected in that right, the President maintains. Americans in foreign countries must be respected in their similar right, he asserts.

President Coolidge can not be swayed from his insistence that the seizure of property without paying for it is in absolute violation of the inalienable rights of the people everywhere.

He would like the people of America to realize that the United States stands on one side of that principle, Mexico on the other and that there is no middle ground. The public mind would save itself from a great deal of confusion if it would realize that the President believes.

Criticism of the administration's course, both by congress and unofficial critics, has been noted by the President. It was evidently to offset it that the President's views upon Mexico were stated at such length today by the official spokesman at the White House.

President Coolidge does not want to engage in criticism himself, it was said, but he is at a loss to understand how anyone in the country can see more than

Tests Held By Scout Troop 5

Scout Troop No. 5, met with the Cub Scouts, Troop No. 2, at the Sequit hall last night and held their regular meeting. Members of both troops passed tests conducted during the evening.

Basketball games were played by teams chosen from the two organizations. Scoutmaster Julius Garitz was in charge.

Delegates Leave To Attend Convention Of Santa Fe Club

The local boys will return here on Sunday night.

one side to the Mexican controversy. It was stated in positive terms that President Coolidge believes that once the confiscation policy is abandoned by Mexico, the minor difficulties that now stand between the two countries will be composed over night.

President Coolidge was informed late today that the senate foreign relations committee had decided to report favorably the Robinson resolutions, which declare for the protection of life and property in Mexico and suggesting arbitration if possible.

The President believes the resolutions and future discussion of them will have the effect of clarifying in the public mind that confiscations is the sole issue.

BILL SEEKS TO CHANGE PILOT LAWS OF BAY

(By Universal Service)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 21.—A bill abolishing the San Francisco pilot commission and repealing the present state pilot law was introduced in the legislature today by Assemblyman William B. Hornblower of San Francisco. He announced he will follow this with a second measure re-creating the commission and rewriting provisions of the pilot law in new form.

Hornblower said he was carrying out the wishes of San Francisco shipping interests and maintained that neither the state government nor the city of San Francisco derives benefit from the tax levied against shipping entering the San Francisco bay.

The assemblyman held that unnecessary charges are being levied against shipping entering the harbor and that "the funds derived from the tax go to the pilot commission and to the pilots."

The appeal act would also affect the port of Eureka, the other California harbor where a pilot commission operates.

Hornblower's second act proposed for presentation after the constitutional recess, he announced, will be designed to perfect pilotage arrangements in the San Francisco harbor and to re-adjust features of the present system to which he says "objections had been raised."

Among other things, Hornblower said, the act re-creating the pilot commission will provide that the captain of any ship, if he is a licensed pilot, may bring his vessel into the San Francisco harbor without employment of a

U. C. And Chicago Debators To Meet

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The interstate debate between the University of Chicago and the University of California, next Monday, at Mandel hall here, will find a man and a woman representing Chicago, it was announced today. Miss Martha McLendon and Mayer Goldberg will talk in defense of the "Ideal of Democracy."

Miss McLendon was a member of the University of Chicago team which defeated Princeton in 1925. She and Goldberg are law students. California will be represented by Philip S. Broughton and Louis R. Hellbron, who will take the affirmative. The debate will be centered on "Resolved, that the Democratic Ideal is a Mistaken Sentiment," the audience will decide the winning team.
